Living, playing and working with others

Developing
personal qualities
and using social skills.

Participating,
cooperating and
resolving
conflict.

Understanding
how communities
and societies
function.

A vital skill for everyone is being able to work well with others; we learn how to listen, negotiate, compromise and sort out disagreements using our words.

Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together – President Woodrow T. Wilson.

“You can’t stay in your corner of the forest waiting for others to come to you. You have to go to them sometimes.” A.A. Milne, Winnie-the-Pooh

Friends are reliable and do and say kind things. They help you out when you are sad or have a problem. They like to spend time with you and above all, have fun.

We are learning to be able to work well with others, to share and cooperate and to discuss any problems we encounter. Sharing toys and equipment can be tricky but with nurture, care and thought, we usually succeed.

"This you know, my beloved brethren But everyone must be quick to hear, slow to speak and slow to anger." James 1:19

We take part in events with other schools like the Berkshire School Games, skipping challenges and carrying the baton from school to school in honour of the Commonwealth Games.
